

Student Awareness Program -Activity under PRAKRITI

- ❖ The Institute of Forest Genetics & Tree Breeding, Coimbatore organized an awareness programme under “PRAKRITI” monthly for school students and college students at Edu Centre, Gass Forest Museum. The main aim of conducting this programme was to create environmental conservation awareness among school and college students to engage them to be actively involved in activities related to environment conservation. The students were given a brief introduction about the “PRAKRITI” program and IFGTB and its contribution towards environment and society. They were also briefed about the biodiversity issues and environmental issues in conservation. Students were shown short films on the theme “Our Planet & Earth, Wonders of Ocean and Beautiful Butterflies”. A small presentation on the “History of Gass Forest Museum and the importance of Forest Museum” was also presented. Later on students were taken to Gass Forest Museum. The details of the students who are benefited monthly are furnished below:
